£5 a month could support a child like Molly

Can you spare £5 a month to support children and young people living with cancer?

Molly was diagnosed with a Medulloblastoma brain tumour when she was just 8 years old.

Life changed very quickly for her whole family. Her mum Lisa said it was like being pushed into a nightmare, "Everyone was devastated... You don't expect it for your child. It's awful - you know it happens to someone else's child but not yours. It's totally unexpected."

Molly underwent surgery and intense treatment. Throughout her cancer journey, she and her family were supported by Cancer Fund for Children. They received one-to-one specialist support, at home and in the hospital, not just for Molly, but for her brother and sister, and parents too. Childhood cancer is a traumatic experience for any family to face, but with your help, Cancer Fund for Children aims to make sure that no family has to face it alone. We want to be there supporting each family every step of the way and with your help, we will.

Molly has now started back to school with her classmates and is doing really well as she continues her treatment.

Every week in Northern Ireland three more children, teenagers or young adults are diagnosed with cancer. We provide practical, financial and emotional support for the whole family. We rely on your help to ensure these services are available to every family who needs them.
